

STYLE WITHOUT THE SPLURGE

Did you know the average teen may spend as much as $500 a year on clothes? Check out these tips to keep your style fresh and your spending low:

SET A BUDGET: Decide how much you'll spend on clothes each month and stick to it.

TIP: Create a separate savings account with your budgeted amount, and don't spend more than what's in there.

WAIT FOR SALES AND DISCOUNTS:

Watch for seasonal sales, clearance events, and discount codes to snag your favorites for less. TIP: Sign up for newsletters from your favorite stores so you'll know when the sales are.

FOLLOW TRENDS IN MODERATION: Buy only one or two trendy items each season instead of trying to buy every new look. TIP: Ask yourself how often you'll wear a piece before buying it. If it's only once, choose something else.

SAVE BIG WITH SECOND-HAND: On average, thrifted items cost 50-70% less. Imagine scoring a pair of jeans for just $20 instead of $60! TIP: Try shopping in different neighborhoods or online thrift stores for unique finds.

FAST FASHION: A QUICK WAY TO DRAIN YOUR WALLET

Fast fashion looks great at first—cheap prices, constant new drops—but is it really worth it? Cheap clothes wear out fast, leaving you to buy more repeatedly. That cycle adds up quickly, draining your wallet. Plus, fast fashion often leads to impulse buys. New trends make it tempting to spend more than you planned.
